

D o c t o r a l S e m i n a r

---

COMMUNICATION SKILLS FOR ACADEMICS (15.289)

January 9-January 26, 9:00-noon (every day)
6 units

This seminar focuses on the communication skills needed for a successful career in academia, including:

- Writing for academic journals and proceedings
  - Preparing and delivering conference papers and job talks
  - Teaching
  - Reviewing for academic journals and conferences
-

You must be in your second year or later to take this course. Your own research project can be used as the basis of the major assignments. Doctoral students from disciplines other than management are welcome.

---

Course Capped at 20 students.

For more information, contact: Dr. Lori Breslow, 253-3780, lrb@mit.edu