	You have a logout and settings buttons that do not work, which is ok for this iteration, but they should at least be empty	Consistency & standards	minor
	Simple, and sleek. Doesn't distract. I like it	minimalistic	n/a
	The text/different news articles are too similar. You can't tell they are different news pieces	readability	minor recommendations

I'm sure it will be fixed by the final iteration. Just make sure it looks clickable

n/a just add different spacing. Coloring. And make it look not like an input box just make sure you

fixe the outlines

n/a

shouldn't be too
much of a problem
since most people
wont have it that small

You could throw
them on a side bar.
Or put them as a bar
on the bottom with
a different color
background

just throw a back
button on the page
or a home button

just change the css
to change the mouse
icon

add a back button

just put a timestamp
for last time resent
or another form of
feedback

n/a\

just stretch it out

add a date picker
